

Terms and Conditions - About Our Service

Utility Hub provides a comparison and connection platform to help individuals and businesses explore and sign up for services like electricity, internet, finance products, and insurance.

We are not a product issuer or financial institution. When you choose a provider through Utility Hub, you enter into an agreement directly with that third-party provider, not with us.

Accuracy and Updates

We work hard to keep information on our website accurate and up to date. However, service providers may change their pricing, products or eligibility criteria without notice. We recommend you double-check the latest details on the provider's official website before making a final decision.

Our Role

Utility Hub acts as an independent comparison and connection platform. We may receive a referral fee or commission when you choose a provider through our platform, but this does not affect the cost to you or influence how results are ranked.

We aim to offer a broad view of the market, but we do not claim to compare every provider or product available.

User Responsibilities

When using our services, you agree to:

- Provide accurate, complete, and up-to-date information
- Use our platform for personal or internal business use only
- Not misuse or interfere with our website or services

You are responsible for ensuring that any product or service you select suits your needs.

Our site may include links to third-party websites or services. We are not responsible for their content, terms, or practices. You use them at your own risk.

Limitation of Liability

To the extent permitted by law, Utility Hub is not liable for any direct or indirect loss, damage, or costs arising from your use of our website, your reliance on any content, or your dealings with third-party providers.
